

Donation Locations - Drop off or Pick Up

A significant part of downsizing, or “right-sizing”, involves the decision to part with belongings that have been part of our lives, sometimes for a very long time.

This can be a genuinely emotional process.

If we must part with things we no longer use or have space for, it can help to know our generosity will help others.

Below is a list of local charities that welcome donations and use them to benefit people in immediate need, often in the local community.
